Does your organisation need help in becoming ISO Certified?

World Wide Industrial & Systems Engineers (WWISE) was established in 2009. WWISE is a woman-owned entity and level 1 BBBEE contributor. Its core function of business is ensuring companies globally follow the ISO standards and principals. We are focused on ensuring organisations attain their ISO certification based on whichever ISO standard they wish to engage in. We have assisted over 627 clients in the past 14 years, and have a global footprint in 16 different countries.

-Why Choose Us-

Reasons to Choose Us

WWISE offers industry experts to answer our clients' questions. Our team consists of engineers, business analysts, lawyers, accountants, psychologists, scientists, and auditors with over 100 years of combined experience in ISO conformance. Our 100% certification record includes over 590 clients in 16 different countries.

01

Affordable

WWISE focuses on large corporations and smaller businesses alike, understanding that each business should experience the value of conformance with various international standards.

02

Professional

Our professional approach to involving and supporting executives and employees alike ensures commitment to the process of redesigning systems integrating with existing systems.

03

Administrative Alleviation

At WWISE we have collaborative and mutual workshops with our clients to document their policies, processes, procedures, work instructions, risks, and standardise them with existing systems.

04

Prompt Execution

We are committed to responding to quotes and information requests within 24 hours and we can develop a conforming ISO Management System in accordance to the client's needs in minimal time.

05

Customisable Solutions

Since every management system is unique, we avoid a one-size-fits-all approach to systems development and conformance management by customising business solutions to fit your specific company size.

06

Post-Certification Support

Certification is only the confirmation of your company's conformance with an ISO management system and relevant statutory and regulatory requirements. Ongoing improvements.
